

Lecturer/Associate Lecturers in Graphic Design, Animation and Photography

Salary: Associate Lecturer £29,799 - £34,520 per annum Lecturer £35,550 - £41,212 per annum

The University of Bolton has embarked on an ambitious enhancement agenda as a “teaching intensive, research informed” University. Its robust financial position and recent achievements put the University in a good position to capitalise on the challenges and opportunities of the current HE environment.

In this context, the School of the Arts is seeking to make a number of key academic appointments in the Art, Design and Media area. We would welcome applications from talented individuals from across the Art, Design and Media disciplines but in particular those with a professional interest in Graphic Design, Animation or Photography. A strong industry record and a current working knowledge of processes and technologies relevant to your specialist area are essential at both Associate and Lecturer level. We would also welcome interest from practicing professionals who would prefer to apply for a fractional 0.5fte role in any of the identified specialisms as well. These roles are offered on a full and part time basis and consideration will be given to appointable candidates who may be interested in combining roles.

As a Lecturer you will be part of a high-performing team of academics committed to the delivery of quality programmes at Undergraduate and Postgraduate level with a specific focus on achieving excellence in the student learning experience. As part of a highly productive and performance-oriented academic organisation, your duties will include course delivery, contribution to programme/course and module developments. You will also play a key role in student engagement and satisfaction while providing academic and personal support to the students at Undergraduate and Postgraduate levels.

Applicants for Lecturer roles should hold an undergraduate and Master's degree in a relevant discipline or equivalent. Ideally, you will have completed a PhD/MPhil/Professional Doctorate in a related area or be willing to be supported to achieve this. You will also need a teaching qualification or equivalent (or willingness to achieve this). Successful candidates will also contribute to the research/enterprise activities in the area of Art and Design.

As an Associate Lecturer you should be able to contribute to the delivery, development, research and administrative support of our Graphic Design, Animation or Photography programmes, which will include the academic and personal support of students.

An initial teaching qualification or willingness to undertake this upon appointment is essential for this role. A higher degree in a relevant subject area (or willingness to undertake this on appointment) is desirable in addition to relevant professional qualifications and registration with a relevant professional regulatory body would also be desirable.

The full job descriptions and person specifications can be viewed on our website: <http://www.bolton.ac.uk/vacancies> or requested by email: hr@bolton.ac.uk. Alternatively, please telephone our 24 hour answering service on (01204) 903579 (Please leave your home address details)

Closing date for applications: 8th February 2018

Interviews are expected to take place during the week commencing 12th February 2018

Applicants must be eligible to work in the UK. No agencies.

The University of Bolton strives to achieve equality of opportunity.