During induction week your School will provide you with a paper copy of your timetable. The most up to date version can be viewed and printed from the University timetable website at .....
<http://www.bolton.ac.uk/Students/MyDetails/Home.aspx>

IMPORTANT: Timetables can be subject to change during the semester but particularly at the start of a semester, so please check the website regularly. You may also be notified by e-mail of timetable changes, these will be sent to your Bolton e-mail address.

At the start of semester, you would be expected to print your own paper copy.

Location (Room number): The room number in the example is M2-018 – Drawing Office, the room number is broken down as M, this indicates the block, 2 indicates the floor (1 being ground) and then 018 is the actual room number.

Module Tutor: This is the lecturer who will deliver the module, generally, for the duration of the semester.

Class Type & Duration: The top line of each timetable event indicates from left to right, the class type, start and finish times and start and end dates.

Module Name & Number: In this example, the modules are DESIGN AND TECHNOLOGY (BLT1005-A), The module is offered by the School of the Built Environment and Engineering, this is indicated by the BLT in the module code, SRB would be Sports Rehabilitation, LAW would be Law etc.

The letter A indicates the occurrence of the module, as there may be repeat occurrences e.g. BLT1005-B, BLT1005-C for some modules.

You will only be expected to attend one occurrence of the module, as indicated on your personal timetable.
