**ITM6002 – Investigative Study (ITM) – Is a Core alternative to ITM6003 Project (ITM). ITM6002 must be selected with a further ITM/THE/IHM HE6 20 credit module. ITM6002 and ITM6003 cannot be studied together and are a barred combination.

Learning and teaching strategies

A variety of teaching and learning strategies is employed throughout the programme in order to ensure the acquisition and development of appropriate concepts, knowledge and skills and achievement of the stated learning outcomes. Some of these will be experienced during formally timetabled classes with a module tutor; others may be adopted personally to facilitate your own learning.

It is important to realise that the time spent with a tutor during formally scheduled learning and teaching activities is only a small part of the learning time identified for a module. In addition to this time a significant amount of time is spent in guided independent study. This independent study time should be spent, for example, engaging in general background reading, preparing for seminar activities, working on assignments or revising for examinations.

A variety of teaching and learning methods provide access to learning to meet a wide range of learner needs and are aimed at widening participation amongst learners to avoid exclusion and develop learner skills in academic studies, the workplace and personal life situations. The methods employed include: lectures; workshops; tutorials (group and individual); guest speakers; work experience in the form of a period of work placement; development of employability skills; information literacy skills development; and personal development planning (PDP). However individual module tutors are free to introduce techniques that they view as especially suitable in aiding learning in their specialist area. The learning and teaching strategy for each individual module is detailed in the module guides that you will receive at the beginning of each semester.

Learning activities (KIS entry)

	Course Year
	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Scheduled learning and teaching activities	39.3	19.8	20.1
Guided independent study	60.7	68.2	79.9
Placement/study abroad	0.0	12	0

Assessment strategy

The assessment strategy for the programme is designed to ensure that you achieve the overall aims and learning outcomes of the programme, as well as the learning outcomes for individual modules.

Assessment serves several functions. The obvious and primary function is to evaluate your achievement. However, assessment also serves to help you organise and develop your learning. Feedback from assessment serves an important educational function and can help you develop your skills and understanding of your own strengths and weaknesses.

The types of assessment you will be required to complete fall into two general categories, formative and summative.

Formative assessments are activities that do not contribute to your overall module grade. They are however an integral part of the learning strategy for a module and you are required to complete them. They will be marked and you will receive feedback on your level of achievement.

Summative assessments are those assessment activities for which the marks will contribute to the overall module grade. You will also receive feedback on these assessments so that you will know what you have done well and where you can improve.

Many different forms of assessment are employed on the programme. For both formative and summative purposes, the major forms are: coursework (usually essays); practical project reports; design and analysis assignments; case studies; oral presentations; and examinations.

Assessment methods (KIS entry)

Grade bands and classifications

Undergraduate Honours Degrees

Grade Description	Mark %	Honours Degree Classification
Work of exceptional quality	70+	i
Work of very good quality	60-69	ii.i
Work of good quality	50-59	ii.ii
Work of satisfactory quality	40-49	iii
Borderline fail	35-39
Fail	Below 35

Honours classification

You will normally be awarded the honours classification resulting from the application of either Rule ACM20 or Rule ACM6.

Rule ACM20

A weighted average of the marks from modules worth a total of 200 credits at Levels HE5 and HE6 combined, including the marks from modules worth no more than 80 credits at least at Level HE5 (weighted 30 percent) and marks from modules worth at least 120 credits at Level HE6 (weighted 70 percent), which represent the best marks achieved by you at those Levels.

Where the average falls unequivocally into one of the following bands: 48.00 - 49.99, 58.00 - 59.99, 68.00 - 69.99; and you have achieved marks clearly in an honours classification category higher than their average for modules worth at least 110 credits, then you will be awarded an honours degree in the classification category one higher than that indicated by your average.

Rule ACM6 (an alternative if you do not have sufficient marks at Levels HE5 and 6 to apply ACM20)

A simple average of the equally weighted marks from modules worth 120 credits at Level HE6 which represent the best marks achieved by you at that Level.

Where the average falls unequivocally into one of the following bands: 48.00 – 49.99, 58.00 – 59.99, 68.00 – 69.99; and you have achieved marks clearly in an honours classification category higher than their average for modules worth at least 70 credits, then you will be awarded an honours degree in the classification category one higher than that indicated by their average.

Where you have marks available for fewer than 120 credits at Level HE6, honours classification shall normally be based solely on a simple average of the available marks for modules at Level HE6, subject to there being marks for a minimum of 60 credits awarded by the University. Upgrading of the honours classification will not normally be available where there are marks available for fewer than 120 credits at Level HE6, unless this is explicitly approved.

Role of external examiners

External examiners are appointed for all programmes of study. They oversee the assessment process and their duties include: approving assessment tasks, reviewing assessment marks, attending assessment boards and reporting to the University on the assessment process. Students will be able to view external examiner reports on the relevant BSc (Hons) International Tourism Management programme site.
