Foreword

by The Vice Chancellor, Professor George E Holmes DL

This year's Graduation ceremonies may be different from previous events, but they remain, as ever, the highlight of our year.

And what a year it has been. A year like no other – one that has been especially difficult for you as you have weathered the storm of a pandemic which has thrown all manner of challenges in your path.

You have faced new methods of teaching and seemingly constant restrictions on activities that 18 months ago we would all have taken for granted.

I have been acutely aware since the start of the pandemic of the potential impact on all our students.

That is why we announced (before any other university in the UK) that we were committed to making the campus Covid-secure in time for the 2020-21 academic year.

It has always been our aim to facilitate as much face-to-face teaching on campus as possible, in accordance with Government guidelines.

This meant a significant amount of investment and hard work by all the University staff on your behalf in the run-up to the beginning of this past academic year in September 2020.

A wide range of measures were introduced. These included airport-style temperature scanners at building entrances, a track and trace system, clearly marked one-way routes, protective screens, a limit to the numbers of staff and students on campus each day and buying 1,000 bikes to loan for free to students as an option to avoid having to travel on public transport.

In addition, we have provided pastoral and financial support, as well as hot meals and food packages for students isolated during the various lockdowns.

We pride ourselves on putting you at the heart of everything we do at the University of Bolton. This has once again been rewarded, as the University has been named number 1 in the North West for student satisfaction in the Complete University Guide 2021.

It was also placed first in the North West for Teaching Quality in The Times and Sunday Times Good University Guide 2021. The University overall was also ranked this year in the top 50 of The Guardian Best University Guide 2021 (a guide which ranks 121 universities in the UK).

In terms of studies, the quality of our teaching has remained at a very high level and your tutors have worked tremendously hard to ensure that this unprecedented year in particular has been meaningful and productive and that you have felt supported.

I say this every year, but it is more important than ever at present; the value of a degree is a real investment in your own future. It is absolutely the right time for you to invest further by taking a postgraduate qualification at Master's and Doctoral level, as the competition for jobs becomes even more intense than ever in a rapidly changing world. This extra investment in your development will help to give you an advantage over others in the labour market, to set you apart and make you a more attractive prospect to potential employers.

As you are aware, the ceremonies in 2021 have not taken place in the same way that they have in previous years. However, after we were forced to abandon any graduation events in 2020, we felt it was imperative that we did all we could to ensure that this year there would be a celebration of your fantastic achievements. I sincerely hope that you were able to take part and enjoy this special occasion.

I wish you all the best in the years to come and hope that you will retain fond memories of the University of Bolton. You have been with us at a momentous period in this planet's history and you have all shown dedication, determination and great resilience, for which you should be deservedly proud.

My heartfelt best wishes for the future.

Professor George E Holmes DL
President & Vice Chancellor

The Chancellor, Earl of St Andrews

George Philip Nicholas Windsor, Earl of St Andrews, is the eldest son of Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Kent. He was educated at Eton College where he was a King's Scholar and at Downing College, University of Cambridge, where he gained an MA in History.

After a period in HM Diplomatic Service during which he served in New York (at the UK Mission to the UN) and Budapest, he worked for a number of years of in the antiquarian book business, including at Christies UK. He has also been Chairman of an Internet-based world history project, the Golden Web.

His interest in cultural diversity and building bridges between civilisations is mirrored within the University and in particular represented by the Centre for Islamic Finance. The Centre's exceptional lecture series has in itself given testament to the sharing of ideas across cultures. The Earl has been associated with the University through the Centre for Islamic Finance for some time now and his impact has been greatly valued.

The Earl is a patron, chairman or trustee and member of the following organisations: the Great Britain Sasakawa Foundation, SOS Children's Village, Worldwide Cancer Research (formerly the Association for International Cancer Research), the Princess Margarita of Romania Foundation, the Welsh Sinfonia, the Next Century Foundation, the Mongolia and Inner Asia Studies Unit at the University of Cambridge and the Global eHealth Foundation.

We are proud to have the Earl of St Andrews as the University of Bolton's Chancellor.

Pro Chancellor, Dr Brett Warburton

MBA, DSC (hc)

The Pro Chancellor, Dr Brett Warburton, is the Executive Director of Britain's biggest bakery brand, Warburtons. At his installation ceremony he was also made an Honorary Doctor of Sciences in recognition of his outstanding contribution to food science research. He was presented as Pro Chancellor by The Baroness Morris of Bolton OBE DL DPhil LLD (hc), the first Chancellor of the University of Bolton.

After graduating from university, Brett gained experience in the British food and bakery industry before completing his MBA at Harvard Business School. His passion for business and people saw Brett focus on operations, joining the business as General Manager of the bread division before becoming Managing Director. Now Executive Director, Brett remains focused on the operations side of the business, from the wheat it buys to the people who bake the products every day. Brett was awarded an Honorary Doctorate from the University of Kent in 2009.

The brand has grown under the stewardship of the Warburton cousins, but the passion for baking the best quality products has always been at the heart of its business. They take a long-term, sustainable approach to growth to ensure they can pass the business to the sixth generation in the best shape possible. They believe investing back into the business, through innovation, technology and people, while never compromising on the quality is key to their success.

With headquarters still in Bolton, Warburtons now employs approximately 4,500 employees in 12 bakeries and 14 depots across the UK. They bake more than two million of their famous wax-wrapped loaves, thins, wraps, crumpets, pancakes and bread rolls every day.

Pro Chancellor, Right Revd Lord Bishop Nigel McCulloch KCVO

Pro Chancellor Nigel Simeon McCulloch was educated at Liverpool College, studied theology at Selwyn College, Cambridge and trained for the priesthood at Cuddesdon College, Oxford. Ordained in Chester Cathedral in 1966, his early ministry included curacy in Ellesmere Port, the role of chaplain and Director of Studies in Theology at Christ's College, Cambridge, Diocesan Missioner in the Diocese of Norwich and Archdeacon and Rector in the Diocese of Salisbury.

In 1986 Nigel was appointed suffragan Bishop of Taunton, and successively Bishop of Wakefield and Bishop of Manchester. From 1997 to 2012 Bishop Nigel was Lord High Almoner to Her Majesty The Queen and in 2013 became the first Bishop of Manchester to be honoured with a knighthood when he was invested by the Queen with the insignia of a Knight Commander of the Victorian Order (KCVO). In addition, from 2002, Bishop Nigel was for many years National Chaplain to the Royal British Legion. In 2008 Bishop Nigel's wife, Celia, was ordained by him at Manchester Cathedral.

Bishop Nigel's commitment to education, equality and understanding has been evident through the many appointments he has undertaken. At different stages in his ministry, he has been a governor of several schools and colleges including six and a half years as a governor of Huddersfield University. He was National Chairman of the Council for Christians and Jews, also chairing the county's Faith Community Leaders' Group and the Greater Manchester Poverty Commission. Manchester City Council and the Lesbian Gay Foundation awarded Bishop Nigel with the 2013 Alan Turing Award in recognition of his efforts to combat prejudice and homophobia.

In November 2008, Bishop Nigel's governance at the University of Bolton began when he was appointed as an Independent Member of the Board. At various times he has served on the University's Audit Committee, Resources Committee, Remuneration Committee, Nominations Committee, and Ad Hoc Appointments Committee. Bishop Nigel has also served as Chair of the Board of Governors from 2013 until 2020.

Professor of Theatre, David Thacker

David Thacker is a leading theatre, film, and television director – currently Professor of Theatre at the University of Bolton.

He was Artistic Director of the Octagon Theatre Bolton for six years from 2009 until 2015 when he stepped down to become Professor of Theatre, taking on the new role of Associate Artistic Director at the Octagon until September 2019.

An extraordinarily prolific director at the Octagon, he directed 36 productions there. During his tenure as Artistic Director the theatre greatly enhanced its regional and national reputation. The Octagon presented an astonishing 52 main auditorium productions over that period, more than any other regional theatre in the country.

At the 2016 Manchester Theatre Awards David's productions received six awards including all the major acting awards and Best Production (An Enemy of the People) – the only time that any director has achieved this in the history of the Awards. In 2014 David was awarded an Honorary Doctorate at the University of Bolton for his services to theatre.

David has directed over 150 theatre productions throughout the UK and internationally. Seven of his productions have transferred to the West End. David's BBC production of A Doll's House was nominated for a BAFTA award.

David's first major role in British Theatre was as Artistic Director of the Duke's Playhouse, Lancaster – at the time, the youngest Artistic Director in the country. His success in putting the Duke's on the map led to his appointment as Director of the Young Vic, where he was well-known in the UK and abroad for his accessible and contemporary productions of Shakespeare and where he first developed his well-documented relationship with Arthur Miller, going on to direct 11 of his plays in 15 productions at The Young Vic, the National Theatre, and the Octagon Theatre: and in the USA, Israel and for the BBC. David has now directed 20 productions of Shakespeare's plays.

He left The Young Vic to join the Royal Shakespeare Company as Director-in-Residence, directing 9 productions including Pericles.

David then moved into television drama, directing more than 30 films for the BBC, ITV, Channel 4 and WGBH Boston (USA) including his critically acclaimed film adaptation of The Mayor of Casterbridge.

In 2007 David was appointed Director of Shakespeare North to establish a new £38.5m theatre in Prescot, Merseyside where the UK's first purpose-built indoor theatre was built in the 1590s. The new theatre is expected to open in 2022. He stepped down as Director of Shakespeare North upon his appointment as Artistic Director of the Octagon Theatre Bolton.

In August 2019 David directed The Merchant of Venice at the Great Theatre of China for Shanghai Theatre Academy and Fortune All Asia Pacific Entertainment (Shanghai) Company, in association with the Royal Shakespeare Company. This project was part of the Royal Shakespeare Company's Shakespeare Folio Translation Project to produce new theatrically viable, actor-friendly and audience-accessible Chinese translations of Shakespeare's plays.

In March 2020 David directed Samuel Beckett's Happy Days at Bolton Library Theatre, a theatre he created for Bolton Library and Museum Services in Spring 2019. Following Arthur Miller's The Last Yankee, Happy Days was the second production for his new professional company, funded by the University of Bolton, to provide a catalyst for learning for students on the BA Theatre Programme. This production was the first UK production to be cancelled as a result of the Covid-19 pandemic. The professional actors continued for a week to present a private performance in which BA Theatre students conceived and created the entire physical production, working alongside the professional actors. This was an unique and unprecedented collaboration between students and professionals.

Bringing things to life

The Chase Films is a production company, based in Manchester and London.

They describe themselves as a full-service film and video production company, which means they have the ideas, write the scripts, plan it, film it, edit it and build the animations.

Formed in 2015, they've worked across a wide range of projects for clients such as Visit Scotland, AstraZeneca, BASF, Smith & Nephew and charities such as WaterAid, the common denominator being to tell stories as authentically and creatively as possible. This is reflected in their team's Oscar and BAFTA nominated credentials.

They've made Scottish hurricanes look like Summer, dropped a piano from great height, created one broadcast television commercial a day for 5 days and created the world's first virtual reality surgery experience.

Shanu S. P. Hinduja

Doctor of Business Administration for her outstanding contribution to the Economy.

Shanu S. P. Hinduja is a successful female career banker and has dedicated her life to the empowerment of minorities. She has made it her mission to change the face of banking in the modern world, to increase transparency and to stress the value of robust regulation, as well as championing the role of the under-represented.

She is currently Chair of S. P. Hinduja Banque Privée and Co-Chair of the United Nations Global Accelerator. She is the only woman chairing the board of a Swiss Bank.

Since assuming leadership roles, Shanu has led from the front and worked to embed a values-driven, progressive and meritocratic culture.

Honorary Recipients 2021

The Rt Hon the Lord Baker of Dorking CH

Doctor of Education for his outstanding contribution to Education.

The Rt Hon Lord Kenneth Baker of Dorking has had a distinguished career in politics. Lord Baker was a Conservative MP from 1968-1997 and a former Chairman of the Conservative Party, who led and implemented a number of educational initiatives under the Educational Reform Act of 1988. Notably, Lord Baker was responsible for the introduction of the National Curriculum; the arrival of computers into schools; Grant Maintained Schools; City Technology Colleges; and Student Loans.

He held several Ministerial positions, including as first Minister for Information Technology; Local Government Minister; Environment Secretary; Education & Science Secretary, and Home Secretary. Upon leaving the Government after the 1992 election, he was appointed a Companion of Honour, and became a member of the House of Lords in 1997. In 2009, Lord Baker spearheaded the initiative for University Technical Colleges by founding the Baker Dearing Educational Trust which provides support and advocacy for these institutions, as well as communications both within the network and to a broader audience.

With a focus on technical subjects, Baker Dearing bridges the gap between the world of education and the world of work. Today, there are 48 University Technical colleges open across England, supported by more than 400 employers and universities and serve around 16,000 students.

Matt Cain

Doctor of the University for his outstanding contribution to Literature and the Community.

Mr Matt Cain is a prestigious British writer and former journalist, best known for his novels The Madonna of Bolton, a crowdfunded publication, and more recently, The Secret Life of Albert Entwistle, published in May 2021.

Mr Cain spent a decade making entertainment and arts programs for ITV, before moving to Channel 4 News acting as the first-ever Culture Editor for the channel. In 2014 Mr Cain published his first novel, Shot Through the Heart, followed in 2015 by Nothing But Trouble. Mr Cain was appointed as Editor-in-Chief of Attitude, the biggest-selling magazine for gay men in the UK, between 2016 until 2018 where some of his most acclaimed work at the magazine included exclusive reports on life for gay people in China; homophobia in Russia; and his personal experience of the HIV prevention drug Pre-Exposure Prophylaxis. Alongside this, Mr Cain ran the Attitude Awards, and launched and hosted the popular #AttitudeHeroes podcast. Since then, Mr Cain has enjoyed working as a freelance journalist. He has appeared on Good Morning Britain, BBC Breakfast and Sky News, as well as writing for many major newspapers in the UK.

Kelvin Fletcher

Doctor of the University for his outstanding contribution to Entertainment and Motorsport

Mr Kelvin Fletcher is a highly regarded actor and professional racing driver. He became a household name in 1996 for his role as Andy Sugden in the long running soap opera, Emmerdale – a role that lasted more than 20 years before he left to concentrate on new projects. Other television credits include Death in Paradise, Heartbeat, Cracker and Coronation Street, and in 2019 he was the winner of Strictly Come Dancing with his professional dance partner Oti Mabuse.

Mr Fletcher also made a name for himself off-screen, enjoying a successful career in motorsport. This began when he won the 2012 HYPERLINK "https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Silverstone_Classic" Silverstone Classic Celebrity Challenge race. To date, Kelvin has raced in numerous championships, including the Mighty Mini Championship and the GT3 Porsche Cup Challenge. He now races in the prestigious British GT Championship for the Bentley brand, and has celebrated several podium finishes.

Mr Fletcher is an ambassador for the Speed of Sight charity, which hosts driving experiences for children and adults with disabilities. Additionally, he is an ambassador for the Midlands Air Ambulance Charity, helping to support and raise awareness of the life-saving work the charity has undertaken for more than three decades.

Stephen Critchlow

Doctor of the University for his outstanding contribution to Health & Sustainability

Mr Stephen Critchlow has been involved in a number of significant progressions within the energy and healthcare market and is the founder of Evergreen Energy, Evergreen Life, and Ascribe.

In 1999 Mr Critchlow left his full-time NHS employment to set up a health IT business, known as Ascribe, which became a worldwide IT solution company, with around 300 employees. When Ascribe was sold in 2014, 75% of all UK NHS hospitals were using it in their departments. Alongside Ascribe, Mr Critchlow founded ASC renewables in 2008, which is today known as Evergreen Energy. The company installs renewables such as wind farms, and serves more than half the UK contractors who install home renewables, such as heat pumps and EV chargers.

Evergreen Life, a national app serving nearly 1 million patients, was established by Mr Critchlow in 2014 and gives people the ability to own and share their health records through an app and website, helping them put their health back in their own hands. Evergreen Life also contributes research data to SAGE, which has been used in hundreds of research projects during the COVID-19 pandemic. Evergreen Smart Power provides research to the Department for Business, Energy & Industrial Strategy, helping them to evaluate the impact of the mass adoption of EVs and heat pumps on the National Grid infrastructure.

Moreover, Evergreen Life contributes research data to SAGE, which has been used in hundreds of research projects during the COVID-19 pandemic. Evergreen Smart Power provides research to the Department for Business, Energy & Industrial Strategy, helping them to evaluate the impact of the mass adoption of EVs and heat pumps on the National Grid infrastructure. He is committed to bringing greater sustainability to the UK and being involved in future innovations to drive this forward.

Ken Eglinton

Doctor of Business Administration for his outstanding contribution to Business and Commerce

Mr Ken Eglinton joined Ernst and Young (EY) in 1978 and is due to retire next year after 37 years. He specialised in auditing foreign-owned banks in London, mainly with Middle and Far-Eastern owners. Mr Eglinton is an Associate Partner in EY's Banking and Capital Markets Audit Group; his career has focused on auditing, but he has also made a contribution on related services such as risk.

Mr Eglinton has worked with various conventional banks to provide Sharia product development assistance; he helped senior management, risk officers, regulators and tax authorities in several European jurisdictions to understand Islamic finance transactions. Today, Mr Eglinton is recognised as EY's subject expert in accounting for Islamic finance products and he leads the company's response to government and regulator initiatives on Islamic finance.

Mr Eglinton regularly presents at conferences, seminars and training courses on Islamic finance topics, including fraud awareness and writes articles for business journals on Islamic finance. Dr Greg Walker

Doctor of Education for his outstanding contribution to Higher Education (particularly during the Coronavirus pandemic).

Dr Greg Walker is Pro Vice Chancellor (Academic Strategy) of the University of Bolton, a role he began in 2021. Dr Walker is deeply committed to the University's profoundly important educational mission and he is dedicated to the task of improving people's life chances through the transformative power of education.

Dr Walker has worked across the fields of academia, tertiary education and public policy for the past 25 years. Since 2001, Dr Walker has been continuously engaged in the UK's University sector. In 2006, he joined Universities UK as a policy manager where he led two significant projects on shared services in higher education, and played an instrumental role in helping found the National College for Welsh Medium Higher Education, established in 2010. In 2012, Dr Walker was approached by Lord Haskins and Martin Bean to join the UK governing body of the Open University, the largest university in the British Isles with over 200,000 students. He later headed the National Association of Colleges organisation in Cardiff as their Deputy, and then acting CEO for five years. During this period, he was seconded to serve the Welsh Government by jointly writing and editing the highly acclaimed 'Diamond Review of Higher Education Funding and Student Finance'.

In 2017 Dr Walker was appointed Chief Executive of MillionPlus, the Association for Modern Universities, where he led the UK's second largest Higher Education mission group. He helped to increase the membership of the organisation, and became a respected and authoritative voice on higher education matters in Westminster and Whitehall. Dr Walker also played a prominent role behind the scenes in the Covid-19 Ministerial Taskforce for Higher Education, which was chaired by the Universities Minister until May 2021.

University Regalia

New regalia for the university was dedicated and used for the first time in 1994. The mace and wands were designed and created by the late Brian Asquith who received an Honorary Fellowship in 1996.

The qualities and ideas expressed in the mace are of growth, development, the future, progression, flowering, technology, nature and metamorphosis.

The mace represents the traditional link with industrial Bolton, a shuttle to the future, an uplifting, developing mental theme; the idea of the seed, its progression to flowering which is associated with the role of an educational institution, to nurture, stimulate and encourage the development of the individual.

The boss at the head of the mace has engraved on it the Coat of Arms of the University of Bolton. The whole mace is poised at an angle on a base, giving the feeling of flight into the future.

The Chancellor and Pro Chancellor wear a medal identical to the boss at the head of the mace, also engraved with the Coat of Arms of the University of Bolton. This is a symbol of the authority and status of their office and that of the university.

Congregation of the University for the purpose of The Installation of the Chancellor, 30th March 2017
