The University of Bolton is a “Teaching Intensive, Research Informed” higher education institution whose distinctive high quality, student-focussed, undergraduate and postgraduate programmes attract students from all over the world.

Our staff are at the heart of everything we do: they are highly qualified and experienced in their fields, supporting their teaching practice by carrying out quality research and engaging in continuous professional development. Staff pride themselves on being outstanding professionals that provide excellent learning, teaching and applied research and support in the provision of custom-designed, industry led courses in numerous subject areas.

The School of Arts and Creative Technologies is looking for an experienced Animation and/or Illustration specialist with a strong creative industry profile, who can demonstrate a depth of knowledge and understanding of current trends in Animation and/or Illustration with particular skills in narrative and sequential art, and moving image techniques from the traditional to digital applications. The suitably qualified candidate will be expected to contribute to the delivery and future development of the existing BA Animation and Illustration programme, MA Creative Practice and other affiliated courses such as BA Graphic Design.

The successful candidate will possess an excellent working knowledge of a range of Animation and/or Illustration techniques and processes and will have the ability to demonstrate these alongside industry-standard software packages in a studio context.

A good honours degree in a relevant subject is essential as is the willingness to hold/obtain a teaching qualification. A postgraduate degree would be desirable.

The ability to deal sympathetically with students is essential, as is the ability to work effectively as a collaborative team member.
