The University of Bolton is a “Teaching Intensive, Research Informed” higher education institution whose distinctive high quality, student-focussed, undergraduate and postgraduate programmes attract students from all over the world

We are currently seeking a focused and enthusiastic Careers Advisor to join the Jobs for Students Team.

The role will involve you providing specialist, high quality career management, education and guidance services that develop and enhance the employability of University of Bolton students and graduates.

The role requires you to design and contribute to the delivery of employability skills through the curriculum, including provision of input to assessed modules and interactive careers-related workshops to both small and large groups of students and graduates.

Further information can be found in the Job Description Person Specification. We’re also happy to chat to interested candidates about the opportunities available and what it is like working at the University. Informal enquiries regarding this role should be made to the Director of Jobs for Students, Julie Bateman via email in the first instance J.Bateman@bolton.ac.uk

*Although these are full-time roles, we would welcome applications from candidates interested in part-time hours/job-share.
