

Penned in the Margins
Simon Jenkins
EYER WITH KATHERINE DREYER
DUNCAN HAMILTON

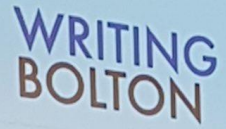

WAY MORE THAN LUCK
Poems by Wilkinson

THE HAVOCS JACOB POLLEY
DIVING BELLES
MARK HADDON
EMERGENCY KIT POEMS FOR STRANGE TIMES
EDITED BY JO SHAPCOTT AND MATTHEW SWEENEY
THE PIER
THOMAS PINCHON THE GRAYING OF LOT 49
David Foster Wallace
Infinite Jest

UNCHALLENGED
A PIECE BY THE POET'S
"THE HOLDER".
HEADER' P.S. KUNAL MAKES USAR THAT THIS
KIND OF IMAGINATIVE DAY-DREAMING AND DOT-
DASHING IS A KEEN PLEASURE, CONCEIVING HOW HIS RIPPED 'BUMBING ABOUT' THEN PAVING THE
GAME. HE EVEN MOOKS HIMSELF FOR THIS
PERSISTENT MIST IN 'MILL SPEAK'. A POEM ABOUT
HIS FATHER'S LOST LANGUAGE: 'THE FARE MOUNT
(GET TOWARDS ... MY MOUNT'. P.S. THIS KUSE OF
THE POEM'S BEING A WRITTEN RECORD OF RESISTANT
PAINING THINKING ON THE SPOT (AND 200+ FEET)
WORK FOR KUNAL, AND WITH THEIR ORIGINS IN AULDOON, BUT PERHAPS MOST PERTINENTLY, DANAGHT.
AFTER A SOMETHING OF A MODEL FOR KUNAL,
ANGLO-AMERICAN POET DID, CAPTIVATES
MUSIC, AND A SAPPY
CONFIDENCE,
WALLACE

Search for:

Explore our literature map for Bolton

Writing Bolton is a digital literature project run by Word Life in collaboration with the University of Bolton. It is a literature map of Bolton. Explore the different categories and markers to watch performances from local poets, find out about local organisations and explore literary references to Bolton locations.

 Events

Public Poems

