The University of Bolton is a “Teaching Intensive, Research Informed” higher education institution whose distinctive high quality, student-focussed, undergraduate, postgraduate and professional programmes attract students from all over the world.

Our staff are at the heart of everything we do: they are highly qualified and experienced in their fields, supporting their teaching practice by carrying out quality research and engaging in continuous professional development. Staff pride themselves on being outstanding professionals that provide excellent learning, teaching and applied research and support in the provision of custom-designed, industry led courses in numerous subject areas.

The key duties of the post holder will be to contribute to the teaching and delivery of the Accounting programme, undergraduate, taught postgraduate or professional programmes, including the academic and personal support of students. In addition, you will be expected to contribute to the student recruitment and admissions of the Accounting programme and be actively involved with the development of apprenticeship provision within core accounting programmes (including developmental links with key employers in the region).

Professional registration with one of the five recognised accounting bodies is an essential requirement for this role; along with a first degree and preferably a teaching qualification. We are particularly interested in candidates with contemporary and Industry/Practice experience in Accounting. A commitment to undertaking a PhD and membership of the HEA must be undertaken within an agreed timeframe if not already attained.

You will be joining a well-established accounting academic team at Bolton who enjoy a long history of maximum professional body accreditations and growing/high performance within external subject group benchmarks such as the NSS and Guardian/Times League tables.
