

How the HEAR benefits you as a student

HELPING YOU MAKE THE MOST OF HIGHER EDUCATION

The Higher Education Achievement Report (HEAR) is a comprehensive record of your achievements in higher education. It will include information about the programme you are studying, the methods of assessment used, and any academic and eligible co-curricular achievements you have accumulated over time.

The HEAR may be available for you to use throughout your time in higher education as well as after you graduate. Presented in a standardised format, the HEAR facilitates comparisons between students' achievements and hence can help you stand out from others. All entries to the HEAR are verified by your institution so that anyone viewing your HEAR (such as future employers) can be assured of the accuracy and authenticity of the information.

The HEAR is now widely used across the UK with over 90 providers of higher education now issuing them. The Higher Education Academy provides the national support for the implementation and maintenance of the HEAR.

How will you stand out from the crowd?

Familiarise yourself with your HEAR so you understand what information about you is being captured and presented.

Make the most of everything that higher education has to offer, within and beyond your programme of study.

Make every effort to succeed in each piece of assessed work because all marks and grades will be recorded even if they do not count towards your final degree classification.

Use your HEAR as a basis for reviewing progress and planning future activities with your peers, trusted advisers, or tutors.

Share your HEAR with trusted advisers, future employers and/or other providers of higher education to inform them of your achievements.

Use your HEAR to help you write applications, such as for sandwich placements, internships, employment, apprenticeships, further study or training opportunities.
